Fare rules for Economy SaverChanges

Changes are not permitted.

This fare is only valid if the flights are taken in the booked sequence.

Cancellation

Unused fees and charges can be refunded. Fuel and security surcharges will not be refunded.

Baggage Allowance

You are permitted to travel with a certain amount of baggage free of charge. The free baggage allowance is shown in your flight ticket, respectively on your passenger receipt. It can also be found under the section Free baggage allowance. It varies based on the routing of your ticket, your cabin of service and your Star Alliance program member status. However, the weight of each piece must not exceed 45kg (99lbs). If your itinerary includes a flight operated by a partner airline under a Lufthansa codeshare flight number, your free baggage allowance is also shown in your flight ticket (passenger receipt) but rules of the first operating carrier do apply. Please contact this carrier directly for details on the free baggage allowance and excess baggage charges. If you need further information about the applicable conditions of your chosen fare please call your Lufthansa Service Center. To find out the telephone number of the Lufthansa Service Center in your country please click here.
